RACE RULES

THE MUNGA RULES

The Munga is a seriously tough race. This is not just a walk (or ride) in the park. We have to make sure that everyone on the route is safe, so every rider will be expected to follow these rules to the letter.

Any rider found breaking the rules, will be penalised or disqualified. So, make sure you are familiar with the rules before setting out on your Munga journey.

INTRODUCTION AND THE DPA

These rules serve as a guideline for both riders and the Race Director and Commissaire. For the riders, they should use these rules to develop a good understanding of the criteria through which fairness is applied. For the Race Director and Commissaire, these rules will inform and guide their thinking into making a fair decision when dealing with rule infringes and contraventions. The Race Director will use a Dual Principle Approach (DPA) in deciding what is a fair decision. The two principles in the DPA are the letter of the law and the spirit or motivation behind the contravention. The following describes what these two principles are about:

1. The letter of the law: This is the actual rules document that break down the various rules and contracts and consequent penalties. So, what does the rule specifically say and what is its intention?
2. The spirit or motivation of the offence: This means what was motivating the individual when he broke a rule? Was it a complete accident, or was he intentionally trying to obtain an unfair advantage?

In using the DPA, the Race Director will look at both aspects. Obviously the first will be easy to determine as the rules document lays out the law so to speak. The second one is harder to determine but the Race Director, along with the Commissaire and any other person that the Race Director deems relevant in the specific case, will assess what motivated the rider when he broke a rule. Using both principles, the Race Director will then make a call whether the infraction has been unfair to other competitors or not, and whether the rider in question has gained an advantage. The ultimate objective is to make a fair decision. The rules are subservient to the principle of fairness. In addition, the Munga is a semi-supported race and as such, there are some unique elements to the Race. This means the parameters and rules need to be clearly defined, appreciated, and understood by all riders. It is the rider's responsibility to make sure he is familiar with and understands all of the Rules and the implications thereof, as well as the DPA. If a rider is unclear about any of the Rules, the onus is on the rider to contact the Race organizer and seek clarity.

22. MEDICAL

- The Race is not simply an ordinary mountain bicycle race, it is arguably one of the toughest races in the world and will place enormous physiological and mental stress on each rider's body. - A rider who has withdrawn from the Race will have no claim whatsoever against the Race organizer, its affiliates or any of its sub-contractors arising therefrom.

- It is the rider's responsibility to make sure he is in good health and adequately trained for the Race.
- All riders must have completed a Race medical form and have it signed by a licensed medical practitioner no sooner than six months prior to Race registration. A rider may not participate in the Race if this form has not been signed thereby confirming that he is sufficiently well adapted and prepared for a Race of this nature.
- It is the rider's responsibility to carry at all times the pre-supplied 1st Aid kit and be knowledgeable in its effective use.
- Safety is your responsibility. Do not expect to see medical support on route between the Race Villages. Medical support will be based primarily at the Race Villages and will respond to trauma on route as soon as is possible.

23. TRACKING

- Every rider has to carry a Munga issued tracking device.
- A rider will not be permitted to continue past a Race Village without their tracking device, and should obtain a replacement unit from the Race Village if they have lost their unit
- The tracker is not a pre-requisite for determining the legitimacy of the rider's route or time, as a tracker could stop working or be lost, and cannot be held against the rider, as this will be against the spirit of the Munga. Please note that the tracking devices are there firstly to assist Race Official and support staff to identify where riders are, should they require assistance. Secondly, to provide family and friends the ability to follow their rider and enhance the enjoyment and participation in the Munga events. The tracking system can however be used to track back and see the riders route history if deemed necessary by the Race Director or Race Officials for any reason and be used in their decision making.
- Riders that have lost their tracking unit will be held liable for the cost of replacement of the unit and will be invoiced accordingly.

24. RACE WITHDRAWAL

- If a rider elects to withdraw from the Race due to medical reasons and is unable to continue to a Race station, the rider must notify either the Race Director or someone from the medical team and a vehicle will be dispatched to collect the rider and transport him to the nearest Race Village down route (in the direction of the race finish). This vehicle will only carry the rider requiring medical attention.
- If a rider wishes to withdraw from the Race for reasons other than medical, he can only make this decision at a Race station.

25. PROTESTS AND COMPLAINTS

If a rider has any complaint or protest, he must submit the complaint or protest after he has crossed the finish line and provided, he is not in breach of any of the Rules.

Riders have one hour to submit a complaint or protest after the Cut-off Time, and it must be done in writing.

- In all matters relating to the Rules, complaints, and protests, or interpreting any of the above-mentioned aspects, the Race Director and/or the chief Commissaire's decision is final and binding.
